The University of Southern California
MASTER SUBCONTRACTING PLAN
For the period of March 7, 2014 through March 6, 2017
The University of Southern California
MASTER SUBCONTRACTING PLAN

The University of Southern California (USC) is a major private research institution and has the knowledge and skills to provide new and innovative answers to specific scientific questions, and the ability to develop unique solutions to problems of federal agencies.

When awarded federal contract funds, USC has a policy to fully consider and promote the use of businesses that have not had the opportunity to work on government contracts, particularly those that are:

- Small Business concerns (SB);
- Small Disadvantaged Business concerns (SDB);
- Women-Owned Small Business concerns (WOSB);
- Historically Black Colleges and Universities and Minority Institutions (HBCU/MI);
- Historically Underutilized Business Zone Small Business concerns (HUBZone);
- Service-Disabled Veteran-owned Small Businesses concerns (SDVOSB); and
- Veteran-Owned Small Business concerns (VOSB); and
- Alaska Native Corporation Business concerns (ANC)

The university encourages its Principal Investigators (PI), university buyers, strategic sourcing and Business Services procurement personnel to consider SB, SDB, WOSB, HBCU/MI, HUBZone, SDVOSB, VOSB and ANC first when buying the goods and services needed for their federally funded projects. Research has shown that these small businesses have demonstrated the ability to perform and foster new and innovative products and services that aide in completing a project’s research. Other benefits include experience, cost effectiveness, quality, quicker turn-around, and customer service. USC also has an overall self-imposed 15% utilization goal for small business concerns.

The Master Subcontracting Plan is a major way USC focuses its attention on this goal. This goal is fully supported and encouraged by the university’s administration. The following, together with any attachments, is submitted as a Subcontracting Plan to satisfy the requirements of Public Law 95-507, 103-355 and 105-135 as implemented by the Federal Acquisition Regulations, the Defense Supplement thereto, and Public Law 100-180 and 103-337. The goals are required for the basic quantity (base period) and each option quantity (period) of the contract, if applicable.

1. GOALS

Individual goals will be developed for each subcontracting plan as described by Exhibit 1 and this Master Plan. The Director / Small Business Liaison Officer (SBLO) of USC’s Business Services Supplier Diversity department is responsible for the administration of the university’s Small Business Contract Compliance Program and the submissions of the subcontract plans and subcontract reports ISR and SSR into the eSRS. Working with the P. I. or project administrator, university buyers, and strategic sourcing procurement personnel, the SBLO will determine appropriate small business subcontracting goals and consider the subcontracting opportunities for the particular project.
2. METHOD USED TO DEVELOP GOALS

The Director/ SBLO of the Business Services Supplier Diversity department will work and consult directly with the project administrator for the PI, university buyers, strategic sourcing teams, and USC procurement personnel responsible for procuring on a particular contract to determine the goods and services that will be subcontracted. Goals will then be developed to identify the suppliers and to determine the contact amount to be subcontracted.

a. Small Diverse Business Concerns - Supplier Searches for SB, SDB, WOSB, HBCU/MI, HUBZone, SB, SDVOSB, VOSB, or ANC will be performed for firms that can provide the goods and services. An online assessment and review will be conducted to determine if an identified SBC should be further pre-qualified based the firm’s capabilities, as well as value added cost competitiveness, quality, or business certifications for consideration by the USC. SBC experience and references are vetted to assist with determining if the business is qualified. Reasonable goals are set after considering the value of the needed subcontracts and the pool of qualified firms.

In-house expenses are deducted from the total budget. Of the amount remaining, a determination is made as to expenditures related to either sole source or large business concerns. The balance is the amount available for subcontracting to SB, SDB, WOSB, HBCU/MI, HUBZone, SDVOSB, VOSB and ANC It is possible to decide how to allocate to the small business concerns (SB, SDB, WOSB, HBCU/MI, HUBZone, SDVOSB, and VOSB, ANC) based on the following formula:

b. Determination of the subcontract amount: The total budget is identified. In-house expenses are then deducted from the total budget. Of the amount remaining, a determination is made based on project specifications relative to large business concerns or sole source. The remaining identified spend is SBC Subcontractable spend is allocated by goals specified for SB, SDB, WOSB, HBCU/MI, HUBZone, SDVOSB, VOSB and ANC goals to classification minimums per subcontract

The SBC subcontractable dollars are determined by taking the:

\text{Total Budget} - \text{In-house} = \text{Subcontract}; \quad \text{and} \\
\text{Subcontract} - \text{Large Business Concerns} = \text{Small Business Concerns}

3. OVERHEAD

Indirect and overhead costs are not included in the USC’s goals described.
